

(Washington, DC)- Today, Congressman Tim Ryan (OH-17) made the following statement in response to Governor Kasich's plans to visit Lordstown tomorrow:

"I thank Governor Kasich for inviting me to join him at the General Motors Lordstown plant. However, Congress is back in session this evening, and I will be in Washington for scheduled committee meetings and votes, and will be attending the State of the Union address tomorrow evening. I am confident that the Governor will be impressed by the quality workmanship of a skilled workforce dedicated to producing an outstanding car that will help drive growth in Ohio's automobile industry for decades to come. I look forward to coordinating a date with the Governor's office in the near future to discuss the rebirth of General Motors and other exciting projects underway in the 17th District."
